

T.H.J. MARCHAND
DESIGNER-MAKER OF FINE FURNITURE

TREVOR H.J. MARCHAND NOVEMBER 22, 2006 SCALE 1:3

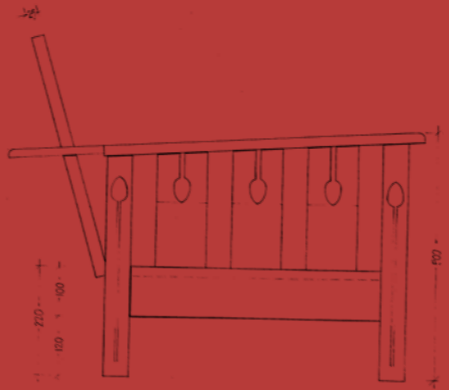

'Samarqand' Coffee Table
American White Oak,
handmade turquoise glazed tiles
and natural oil finish

'Djenné' Fireside Chair

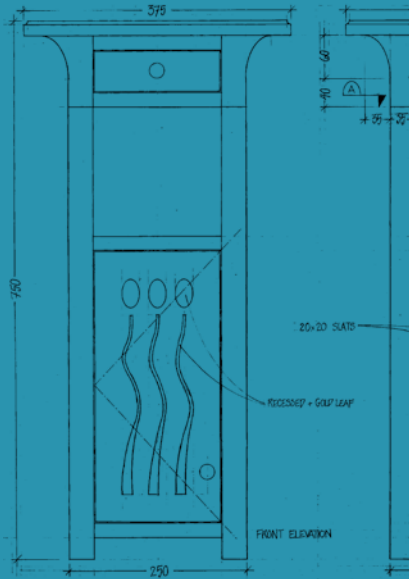

American White Oak,
gold leaf and natural oil finish.
Down cushions upholstered with Italian
'cinnabar' fabric (by Barbara Heywood)

Trevor HJ Marchand received an architectural training and practiced in his native Montreal as well as internationally. He later received a PhD in anthropology for his studies of building-craft knowledge with masons in Yemen and West Africa. He is a Senior Lecturer in anthropology at London's School of Oriental & African Studies (SOAS) and a designer-maker of fine wood furniture.

Marchand's designs fuse turn-of-the-century elegance with bold architectural form and rhythm. Each handmade piece employs traditional joinery and uses timbers from sustainable sources. The combination of enduring hardwoods with precious materials evokes a sense of timeless luxury.

40 Elsham Road, Holland Park, London W14 8HB, UK - Email: tm6@soas.ac.uk

'Viennese' Bedside Cabinet

American White Oak,
gold leaf & natural oil finish

